Info

In 2006 Mini released the ultimate variant of the renewed Mini Cooper. The John Cooper Works GP was born this road racing car was limited to just 2000 units worldwide. This is the most radical Mini R53 where even the rear seats had to give way for weight reduction. Furthermore, the compression-driven engine produces 218 hp in combination with high-performance suspension and brakes.

We proudly present number 1661 of the 2000 units produced. This car was delivered new in Germany in 2006 and had only 1 Belgian owner since 2010. The car is really in mint condition.

This is a real collector's item with a lot of potential. There are almost no copies left for sale. This Mini is still completely original and complete.
