Alfa Romeo Spider - Classic Beauty with Modern Reliability

This is the final series of the Alfa Romeo Spider, retaining its timeless classic design. Registered as a vintage car, it offers the owner a reliable and well-driving classic with a fuel-injection system. The 2.0L four-cylinder engine provides more than enough power for a carefree cruise, allowing you to truly enjoy the open road.

This particular vehicle was originally delivered new in Belgium. The second owner decided to take it to his vacation home in Spain, which explains why this Italian beauty has so few kilometers on the clock. Thanks to our extensive contacts, we were able to locate the car in Spain and bring it back to its original home, where it is now ready for a new enthusiast to cherish.

Key Features:

- Original Belgian car
- Second owner
- Only 37,500 kilometers!
- Magnificent color scheme
- 100% rust-free
- Original undercoating (Tectyl) still present on chassis and frame
- Almost entirely in its original factory paint

A Brief History of the Alfa Romeo Spider (4th Series): The fourth series of the iconic Alfa Romeo Spider, produced from 1990 to 1993, marked the final chapter in the classic design evolution of this legendary model. Known for its sporty yet elegant styling, the fourth series retained the Spider's essential character while introducing more modern mechanical upgrades. The fuel-injection system made it more reliable for everyday driving, and the 2.0L engine offered a perfect balance of performance and comfort. With its sleek lines, timeless design, and incredible driving experience, the Alfa Romeo Spider continues to be a true symbol of Italian automotive passion.

This car represents the epitome of classic motoring combined with modern reliability. Don't miss the opportunity to own this rare, low-mileage gem!
