Jaguar MK2 3.4 – 1965 – Concours Restoration, Rolling Heritage with Comfort and Character

An icon of the 1960s, fully reborn in Belgium – this 1965 Jaguar MK2 is a true showcase of British class and craftsmanship. Originally delivered new in sunny California, this exceptionally sound and rust-free example provided the ideal foundation for a top-level, body-off restoration.

Every step of the restoration process has been meticulously documented with an extensive photo archive and corresponding invoices. This is not a 'cosmetic' restoration, but a complete technical and aesthetic rebuild. The body was completely separated from the chassis, professionally restored, and finished with great attention to detail.

Specifications & Upgrades:

- 3.4-litre inline six-cylinder engine – original specification, smooth and powerful
- Fully overhauled automatic transmission
- Newly installed power steering – modern driving comfort without losing character
- Upgraded braking system – improved safety while preserving the authentic driving feel
- Complete new wiring and electronics
- Interior fully reupholstered – wood trim, leather, and carpets all in concours condition
- Chrome work professionally redone
- Outstanding driving experience – smooth, quiet, and comfortable, even on long journeys

This MK2 is not only visually stunning, but also mechanically in excellent condition. While many classics are limited to short Sunday drives, this is a car that invites you to enjoy every mile with confidence and pleasure.

Historical Background – Jaguar MK2

Introduced in 1959 as a direct evolution of the MK1, the Jaguar MK2 quickly earned its place among the British elite, racing enthusiasts, and – in fictional realms – Inspector Morse. Its unique combination of performance, comfort, and luxury made it a benchmark in its class. The 3.4-litre version in particular was praised for its balance of power and refinement.

Today, the MK2 is a highly sought-after classic, and examples in this condition are extremely rare. This is a unique opportunity to acquire a timeless design icon that is ready to be driven and enjoyed.
