Jaguar E-Type Convertible 4.2 – classic beauty with modern usability

The Jaguar E-Type is one of the absolute icons of automotive history. When it was introduced in 1961, it caused a true sensation: breathtaking lines, impressive performance and engineering directly inspired by Jaguar's racing experience. It is no surprise that the E-Type is still regarded today as one of the most beautiful sports cars ever made.

This example is a particularly attractive Jaguar E-Type Convertible fitted with the desirable 4.2-litre six-cylinder engine. It is a version that brings together the very best of the E-Type: timeless looks, open-top driving pleasure and the smooth power delivery of the large XK straight-six.

What makes this car especially interesting is that it has been fitted with a series of well-considered technical upgrades that make it far more usable in modern traffic, without compromising its classic character. The car is equipped with a KMS fuel injection system, combined with a specially designed exhaust system with lambda sensors to regulate the fuel mixture. This allows for smoother running, improved reliability and more precise tuning compared with a traditional carburettor setup. The invoice for this conversion is present in the car's history file.

In addition, this E-Type features a synchronised 5-speed gearbox, making it significantly more pleasant to drive, especially on longer journeys or at higher cruising speeds. Cooling has also been improved thanks to an aluminium radiator with electric fan, a very useful upgrade for anyone who actually wants to use the car rather than simply preserve it. For improved road holding, Koni shock absorbers have been fitted, giving the car a more stable, composed and confidence-inspiring feel.

Comfort has also been addressed. The car is fitted with black leather seats offering improved seating comfort, making it particularly well suited to longer journeys, multi-day rallies or relaxed touring trips. This is therefore not an E-Type that merely looks beautiful in a collection, but one that genuinely invites you to get in and drive.

The specification is exceptionally stylish and timeless: black exterior, black mohair convertible roof, black leather interior and beautiful chrome wire wheels. It is an elegant and powerful colour combination that suits the sensuous lines of the E-Type perfectly. With the roof down, the long bonnet, low seating position and classic Jaguar atmosphere become even more compelling.

This Jaguar E-Type Convertible therefore combines the unmatched presence of one of the most beautiful sports cars of all time with technical improvements that make it suitable for modern use. The fuel injection system, upgraded exhaust, 5-speed gearbox, improved cooling, Koni shock absorbers and more comfortable seats make this car an ideal choice for the enthusiast who wants not only to admire, but above all to drive.

An exceptionally usable E-Type Convertible: classic in appearance, refined in engineering and perfectly suited to rallies, touring and stylish weekend drives.
